Haunted Jail inmates make hospital rounds

Andy Jensen receives a visit from Frankie, Cousin It and The Mummy, "inmates" of the West End Optimist club's Haunted Jail, in his hospital room Wednesday night at Jennie Edmundson Memorial Hospital. Andy, 13, the quarterback for Audubon Junior High School, suffered a fractured leg in a game with Tri-Center and will be in traction for at least three more weeks, missing out on trick-or-treating. Yvonne Wilbur, a nurse in the pediatric unit, and her husband Marshel, an Optimist club member, arranged for the monsters to visit Jensen and other children at the hospital.
