It's all in the timing

Chastity Beauharnois waits patiently for just the right moment to rise from her coffin and scare A.J. Howard and Adam Smith during their visit to the Halloween haunted house at the Squirrel Cage Jail. The grim reaper, William Alexander, may beat her to it. The jail at 226 Pearl St., operated by Westend Optimists, will be open from 7:30 to 10 p.m. tonight and 7:30 to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday.
